Good afternoon GySgt Dew and RS L.A.

Making criminal threats is against the law, and this suspect needs to be turned in to local law enforcement, especially since he was specific about the use of explosives to kill everyone in your office.

Sending this up the chain allows me to create a report for AT/FP personnel, but it doesn't put this suspect any further from making threats or harassing the Marines and applicants at that substation.

In the future I recommend that you call the police or sheriff in order to ensure that detain and process him in their information system.

S/F,

Major Borns

Good afternoon,

The individual that made the threats a few weeks ago came back to the office. He was seen and told to leave by security previously on 180323 but then came back today. I didn't say anything to him but just took a few pics 1 from my security monitor and the other from the front door.

Very Respectfully,

Gunnery Sergeant David A. Dew
